Charcoal Removes Stomach Poisons

Pure Charcoal Will Absorb One Hundred Times Its Volume In Poisonous Gases.

Charcoal was made famous by the old monks of Spain, who cured all manner of stomach, liver, blood and bowel troubles by this simple remedy.

One little nervous Frenchman held forth its virtues before a famous convention of European physicians and surgeons. Seheyrone was his name. He was odd, quaint and very determined. His brother's in medicine laughed at his claims. Thereupon he swallowed two grains of strychnine, enough to kill three men, and ate some charcoal. The doctors thought him mad, but he did not even have to go to bed. The charcoal killed the effects of the strychnine and Seheyrone was famous. Ever since that day physicians have used it. Run impure water through charcoal and you have a pure, delicious drink.

Bad breath, gastritis, bowel gases, torpid liver, impure blood, etc., give way before the action of charcoal.

It is really a wonderful adjunct to nature and is a most inexhaustible storehouse of health to the man or woman who suffers from gases or impurities of any kind.

Stuarts charcoal lozenges are made of pure willow charcoal sweetened to a palatable state with honey.

Two or three of them cure an ordinary case of bad breath. They should be used after every meal, especially if one's breath is prone to be impure.

These little lozenges have nothing to do with medicine. They are just sweet fresh willow, burned to a slaty for charcoal making and fragrant honey, the product of the bee. Thus every ingredient comes to man from the lap of nature.

The only secret lies in the Stuart process of compressing these simple substances into a hard tablet or lozenge, so that age, evaporation or decay may not assail their curative qualities.

You may take as many of them as you wish, and the more you take the quicker will you remove the effects of bad breath and impurities arising from a decayed or decaying meal. They assist digestion, purify the blood and help the intestines and bowels throw off all waste matter.

Go to your druggist at once and buy a package of Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges, price 25 cents. You will soon be told by your friends that your breath is not so bad as it was. Send us your name and address, and we will send you a trial package by mail free. Address F. A. Stuart Co., 260 Stuart Bldg., Marshall, Mich.

A Cure for Misery.

"I have found a cure for the misery malaria poison produces," says R. M. James, of Louellen, S. C. "It's called Electric Bitters, and comes in 50 cent bottles. It breaks up a case of chills or a bilious attack in almost no time; and it puts yellow jaundice clean out of commission." This great tonic medicine and blood purifier gives quick relief in all stomach, liver and kidney complaints and the misery of lame back. Sold under guarantee at J. C. Perry's drug store.

SOCIETY

Entertain Varsity Students.

Prof. and Mrs. Gaylord H. Patterson entertained last night and will entertain again tonight members of Professor Patterson's classes of the university at their home at Kimball college. The students were entertained last night with games and musical numbers, features being the instrumental numbers by the Misses Sampson and the singing of the male quartette of the varsity. At the supper which followed covers were laid for about thirty.

Inauguration Program.

The following program will be given in the First Methodist Episcopal church in connection with the formal inauguration of Rev. Fletcher Homan, D. D., as the president of Willamette university:

Sunday, January 17.—10:30 a. m., sermon, Rev. W. H. Heppie, D. D. (Presidents of denominational colleges in Oregon occupying city pulpits. 7:30 p. m., addresses, prominent laymen in Oregon Conference.

Monday, January 18.—7:30 p. m., Greetings from presidents of Oregon colleges and universities, followed by a reception.

Wednesday, January 20.—10 a. m., Inauguration, Bishop Charles W. Smith, D. D., LL. D., presiding; charge to the president, Bishop Edwin M. Hughes, D. D., LL. D. Inaugural address, Rev. Fletcher Homan, D. D. The public is cordially invited to attend these exercises for which some excellent musical numbers will be furnished by the Glee Club of the 'varsity, the male quartette of the M. E. church, and also pipe organ selections will be given by Professor Mendenhall, of the College of Music.

Arachne Club Entertained.

Miss Louise Hoyt entertained the members of the "Arachne" club and their friends at her home in South Salem, Tuesday night in a most delightful manner. "Five Hundred" was played during the evening, and the prize was captured by Miss Maude Hawley. The hostess was assisted by Mrs. W. P. Babcock in serving dainty refreshments, and little Miss Amelia Babcock received the guests. Guests of the club were Arthur Hughes, of Baker City, Miss Adda Lewis and Mr. Ben Tamplin, of Portland; Josie Moorhead, of Junction City, and Misses Nellie Hargrove, Frances and Irene Howard, Messrs. Luie Josse, Harry Wendelroth, Frank Springer, Harry Maurer, and Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Babcock.

Improvements at Sacred Heart.

The Christmas Journal did not contain in its list of improvements the past year any mention of the $4000 addition that has been made to Sacred Heart Academy, in the form of a brick structure three stories high, affording lavatories and outdoor porches, that can be used for exercise or open-air sleeping rooms. There have also been other improvements made, such as clearing the ground for the erection of a gymnasium for the girls. The large plot of ground will be put under the care of a landscape gardener and beautified with shrubs and flowers, and the girls play ground made much nicer. The Sister Superior and her co-laborers are leaving nothing undone to make this a model boarding school for young ladies, up-to-date in every detail, and the fine class of students they are getting proves the success of the undertaking.

Skating Party.

Misses Alta Cameron and Irene Higgins were hostesses at a jolly skating party at the Auditorium last night, after the game of basketball between the Salem high school and the Capital Business College teams. The invitations numbered nearly 100, and were mostly sent to high school students. They were sent on post cards of the roller skating series, and on each of them was a clever barlesque sketch of a roller artist. The Peerless orchestra furnished the music. The grand march, led by Miss Cameron and Clarence Giles, was uniquely executed, the skaters forming "S. H. S." and a large "S" in the center of the auditorium. The general jollity of the occasion was increased by the announcement of the victory of the High School over the Business College players.

Entertained for Guest.

Miss Minnie Schwartz entertained about 20 young people Thursday evening at the home of Charles Ruge, in West Salem, for Miss Juliet Lemke, of Fargo, N. D. Cards was the principal amusement, the prizes going to Elmer Beals and R. L. White. Refreshments were served late in the evening.

Harry Brown—

Says he began the day just right—he started in with Folger's Golden Gate Coffee, which had been ground fresh that morning.

Quail Was Starved—

A farmer residing north of the city picked up a California quail out of a fence corner yesterday morning which was in a half starved condition, and brought it to town. The little bird was turned over to Jesse Dudley at the Barnet cafe who, with care, has made him quite tame. The bird, when found, did not have enough strength to try to escape.

Shocked and Scalded—

Ray West, an employe of the Salem brewery, sustained a painful injury Thursday morning while thawing out a frozen pipe at the brewery. West was up on a ladder with a hose, through which scalding hot steam was carried to melt the ice, when he accidentally came in contact with a live wire, and the shock so startled him that he lost control of the hose, with its burning contents, and in some manner it curled around his neck, throwing a stream of hot steam down along the right shoulder and about his back, scalding him painfully.
